

iwascoding is a German company that was founded in 2005. Frustrated by the absence of eBay listing utilities for Mac the company's founders Ilja Iwas and Paul Hecker created a client application for the eBay online auction system. Today iwascoding is at the forefront in developing outstanding tools to make eBay selling easier for Mac users.

The company accounts for approximately 2.000.000 listings per month and numbers are increasing. About fifty percent of the company's customers are in the US and forty percent in Germany.

iwascoding received the award for "Best Newcomer Q1/Q2 2005" at eBay's Germany developer day in 2005 for its innovative application GarageSale. GarageSale won tests in German magazines such as MacWelt 08/2006 or MacLife 06/2005 and 04/2006. Also, the company took the eBay Star Developer Award runner-up prize. In 2022 and 2023 GarageSale earned eBay's "Silver Solution Provider" badge and is now listed on eBay's "Third party providers" website.

The following tools are at the center of attention.

GarageSale is a slick, full-featured client application for the eBay online auction system – it's the leading eBay listing tool for the Mac platform. The 10th version of GarageSale reveals a stunning new AI Listing Generator and introduces Scheduler Groups which simplify timed, recurring listing starts. New print templates for both Listing and Order mode open up new possibilities. A new generation of design templates (called "Pro Design+") take your listings to a next level.

GaragePay is a management tool for PayPal transactions. It lets you download, view, search, and archive all your PayPal transactions without having to log into the PayPal website. It handles incoming as well as outgoing money transfers.

GarageBuy is the first Mac application featuring eBay-certified bidding functionality. Bids can be placed instantly without having to wait for all those eBay web pages to load. GarageBuy is an app primarily targeted at collectors and power-buyers on eBay. An iOS version called „GarageSale Touch" is available, too.

GaragePay

GaragePay is a Mac application designed to make dealing with PayPal a lot easier.

GaragePay lets you download, view, search, and archive all your PayPal transactions without having to log into the PayPal website. Since all information resides in GaragePay's own database the application can be used fully featured even without an internet connection. It downloads all transactions in all accounts while updating previously downloaded transactions.

GaragePay includes a couple of handy features. Through the filter mechanism eBay sellers can search for a transaction, a payer's name and address or even single words in transaction messages. With the application's Smart Folders users can keep track of payments from particular people or of transactions in a certain currency. Users can export CSV files that include all information shown in GaragePay's main window. Last but not least, users can use as many accounts as they like at the same time.

Price

A single user license for GaragePay is available for $9.99. You can use this license on up to two Macs if you are the only one using it. The unlicensed version of GaragePay will display up to 30 PayPal transactions.

GarageBuy

GarageBuy is a free app primarily targeted at collectors and power-buyers on eBay.

With GarageBuy you set up your eBay searches once. It will keep track of your searches and can also synchronize them to your other devices. It will also synchronize the list of items you already looked at, so you can focus on new items exclusively, no matter if you are on your Mac, iPad or iPhone. The perfect eBay browsing experience!

For each search, GarageBuy will show the number of the auctions you haven't viewed yet. Also, you can hide items you don't want to see.

When you are bidding on an auction that has reached its final phase, GarageBuy will update the current bid, including the highest bidder's name, every few seconds automatically. That means you don't need to hit your browser's reload button until your thumbs bleed.

GarageBuy free: Use it for free but to place bids or to purchase items you have to visit the eBay website.

GarageBuy Premium ($3.49/Month): Enables you to place bids & buy items directly from within GarageBuy.
